THEY ALL ATE AS MUCH AS THEY WANTED

We are what we eat

'Take and eat, this is my body.' These familiar words express our faith that God comes to us as life and nourishment. In the ordinary ritual of sharing food and drink, we are drawn into the presence of God.

This faith is found in the writings of the New Testament when the disciples discovered an ongoing presence of Jesus in their midst. 'He's alive!' is the joyful message of Easter. In their small gatherings as they shared their stories of Jesus, and broke bread together, they knew Jesus was still with them.

What we now call Eucharist, they called 'The Lord's supper' for Jesus remained with them as host, as surely as he once was host in their many shared meals.

In Paul's letter, we have the earliest description of the Last Supper and the Institution narrative, since this letter was written around 56 CE, many years before Mark's Gospel took its final written form.

At this Last Supper Jesus gave to the bread and wine the meaning of his actions the following day. Disciples, by participating in eating the bread and drinking the wine, participated in the meaning of Jesus' death. The solemn ritual transcends the present moment to draw into it both past and future. This is what a ritual, or memorial is. It is not nostalgic remembering of an event in the past; it is a means of participating now in the significance of a past event, and appropriating this for one's self.

The bread and wine symbolise a body given and blood poured out, and these symbols then make accessible for all Christians what Jesus did.

Jesus names this ritual a new covenant, which needs to be understood against the background of Israel's great covenant at Mount Sinai. A covenant is one of many terms used to describe Israel's sense of belonging in a special relationship to God. Prior to Sinai, covenants had been experienced by Abraham and other ancestors, but at Sinai, all the people were involved.

At this time, the covenant was sealed with the pouring out of the blood of sacrificial animals – half poured on the altar to represent God, and half sprinkled on the people. Since blood represented the life-force, this sharing in blood, was a symbolic way of saying that the people now participate in the very life of God.

In taking bread and wine and saying these solemn words, Jesus transforms this ancient ceremony and, now, the guarantee that we participate in the life of God is Jesus' own life.

Stories such as the one we hear in today's Gospel link the post-Easter experience of the Lord's presence with their memory of other meals during the ministry of Jesus. This meal with the multitude, anticipates his later meal on the eve of his death and the ongoing meals in the Christian communities. Notice in the Gospel that the disciples are told to feed the crowd and to distribute the blessed bread. The action of these disciples continues in our communities today.

In celebrating this feast we not only give thanks for the presence of Christ in the bread and wine, we also celebrate that being nourished by the life of Jesus we become the living body of Christ. As Paul states, 'Now you are the body of Christ and individually members of it.' (1Corinthians 12:27)

Celebrating our family of faith

This year marks 175 years since the Diocese of Melbourne was established. Our family of faith has much to celebrate since our beginnings in 1847! Archbishop Peter A Comensoli is inviting everyone to come together on Sunday 26 June 2022 at 11am for a special Mass at St Patrick's Cathedral, which will feature specially commissioned music performed by our various ethnic communities. That weekend also marks the conclusion of the 10th World Meeting of Families, and so following the Mass, make sure to stick around for lots of food, fun and festivities around the Cathedral grounds!

Feast of the Sacred Heart

On next Friday 24 June, there will be three Masses to celebrate the Feast of the Sacred heart, each attended by one of our three schools - 9.15am at OLMC Church, 9.30am and 12.15pm at St Anne's Church.

The following children from our parish will be baptised this

Sunday:

Nixon COAD

Slater HALLIWELL

Harper LIVINGSTON

Kai SUTHERLAND

We joyfully welcome them to our parish.

Sunbury Winter Shelter

GUIH.ORG Charity is collecting items to be distributed to the homeless people in Sunbury through the 'Winter Night Shelter project. Apart from Sunbury, GUIH.ORG also reaches out to the homeless in CBD. This Winter we will be distributing all the items collected in our church for the 'Winter Shelter Program' only. Please only donate the items listed on the flyer. We are not accepting used items. Thank you for your donations and contributions.
