TRUTH WITHOUT COMPROMISE

Our Sunday gospel has a disturbing message as Jesus uses some harsh words: "I have come to bring fire to the earth... Do you suppose I am here to bring peace on earth? No, I tell you, rather division. (Luke 12:49-50)

By fire, Jesus refers to the fire as used by a metal worker to burn away impurities. Fire is seen as the gift of the Holy Spirit. John the Baptist while he prophesied baptism with water, said Christ would baptise with the Holy Spirit and fire. (Luke 3:16) At Pentecost, the disciples received the Spirit in the visible form of "tongues as if of fire". (Acts 2:3)

HISTORICAL CONTEXT OF DIVISION

Jesus' words about conflict and division speak of the reality experienced by Luke's community. Some within Judaism did become followers of Jesus; others saw him as a false Messiah. By the late 80's, when Luke was writing, Christianity and Judaism were beginning to separate, so it is likely that households were split as parents and children took different paths. Also, the Christian community was negotiating life within the Roman Empire where persecutions had already begun in Rome.

FAITH AND DIFFICULT CHOICES

Our Christian faith is not always comforting or comfortable particularly if our faith is at odds with the surrounding culture.

Jesus spoke often about the poor and the accumulation of wealth for one's own desires; Jesus spoke about care of the neighbour, the outsider, the stranger; he spoke of generosity and justice, of forgiveness.

Faith calls for real choices about how we live, what we buy, where we shop, whom we vote for, and such choices will cause conflicts with those who think differently. Jesus' peace is not a warm, fuzzy glow, not a comfortable satisfaction with the status quo.

THE JOURNEY OF FAITH - A MARATHON

In the Commonwealth Games, we saw runners continuing to race to the finish line. Our second reading uses that image—"we should keep running steadily in the race we have started". (Hebrews 12:2) We are encouraged in our marathon race of discipleship. Those who already have reached the heavenly finishing line cheer us on and ahead of us is the great Pace Setter, Jesus, who ran through the flames of opposition and death to take the prize of resurrection.

Our second reading today from the letter to the Hebrews begins with "With so many witnesses in a great cloud on every side of us." This refers to those in heaven. The letter is encouraging those struggling in the first century that they be assured that God was with them. Let us recall twenty centuries of witnesses to the Christian faith supporting and encouraging us - those here with us at Mass, and those like Olivia Newton-John who did so much for those suffering cancer.

INFORMATION SESSION - PERMANENT DEACONS

Word and the poor, may be an invigorating symbol for the entire Church". Permanent deacons live their vocation in and with their family. An information session will be held on Saturday 3 September at 10am at Catholic Theological College, 278 Victoria Parade, East Melbourne. Men, married or single, between the age of 30-60 years are invited. Contact Office of Permanent Diaconate—9412 3357, or watch <https://youtube.be/q2RLNDbtTSO>.

Our Prayerful Sympathy

We offer to the family of Frank Heenan who entered eternal life on 6 August aged 98 years. He and his wife Nancye are parents of ten children. He grew up in Coleraine and became a printer. He came to our Parish in 1990 and he regularly took part in Sunday Mass. His Funeral will be celebrated on Thursday at 10am concluding at Northern Memorial Park, Glenroy.

Report finds 'stark gap' between rich and poor

Australia is one of the richest countries in the world but has a significant wealth gap between the rich and the poor, according to a new report. The findings released by the Australian Council of Social Service (ACOSS) on 22 July found that Australia's richest 10 per cent of households have an average household wealth of $6.1million - almost half of the entire country's wealth combined. The majority of Australians are on the lower scale of wealth, with 60% of the population only pocketing 17 per cent of the country's wealth. Source:SBS News (25/07/2022)
