Parish Vision: Christlike relationships of friendship and faith, valuing one another and sharing our gifts for the good of all

WHO WILL BE SAVED?

In today's Gospel, Jesus is now on a journey south to Jerusalem, preaching about the reign of God and he is asked a question: "will there only be a few saved?" We sometimes ask: "will I go to heaven?"

THE COMPASSIONATE JESUS

The gospel of Luke portrays Jesus as focussing his Ministry on those considered the least in society. In Luke, the birth of Jesus is witnessed by lowly shepherds, as opposed to the regal wise men in Matthew's version. In the parable of the Good Samaritan, it is the Samaritan outsider who responds with compassion. The Lost (Prodigal) Son is welcomed back with great rejoicing. These stories are found only in Luke.

Our gospel concludes today: "Yes, there are those now last who will be first, and those now first who will be last". (Luke 13:30) Jesus reminds his audience that their status in society means nothing when it comes to the status in the kingdom of God, where the 'first will be those who accept Jesus' message, their faith and who act compassionately towards others.

GOD'S WAY OF SALVATION

The earliest Christians saw the Jews as the Chosen people, given every opportunity for salvation. However, Jesus did not act as they hoped as the Messiah and so rejected him and persecuted Christians, expelling them from the synagogues. At different times, we Catholics have been hostile to other religions, other denominations and the secular world.

At Second Vatican Council, (1962-1965) the bishops produced "the Declaration on the relationship of the Church to non-Christian religions". The document teaches God has a relationship with all people who in turn relate to God. While Jesus is the way to the Father, God can work in an infinite number of ways to assist people to salvation. It is Church teaching now that our relationship to all people who share the best of our values must be characterised by acceptance, collaboration, dialogue and charity.

UNIVERSAL INVITATION

The chief point of today's gospel is revealed where Jesus observes: "people from east and west, from north and south, will come to take their places in the feast in the Kingdom of God". (Luke 13:29)

Our Responsorial Psalm (Ps 116) highlights the inclusiveness of God's plan for the world" Go out to all the world and tell the Good News." God is bound to all peoples and nations in steadfast love. We are to overcome all divisions in the human family which is destroyed by war and self-interested factions. We are to make friends, not enemies, at all levels—national, social, ecclesial and personal.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ACT

Jesus, at this section of Luke's gospel is on his way to Jerusalem and is facing increasing opposition, eventual denial and rejection. Jesus has made his decision - he knows the stakes are high; he will not flee or flinch. He has chosen the narrow door.

Maybe you have the experience of issuing an invitation and getting the reply: "Can I let you know later? In other words "I am interested if nothing better comes along" - a half-hearted response.

The reign of God calls for more than such a response. It calls for a clear commitment, 'yes' or 'no'. God is inviting all to take part in God's desire for a world of wholeness, justice and peace. Now is the time to make the choice and not put the decision off till later.

The parable leaves the choice of salvation to each person not to Jesus. It is as if Jesus is saying to us, "You have the invitation, do you want it?" Conversion of heart is not something we can afford to put off indefinitely.
